Foreword

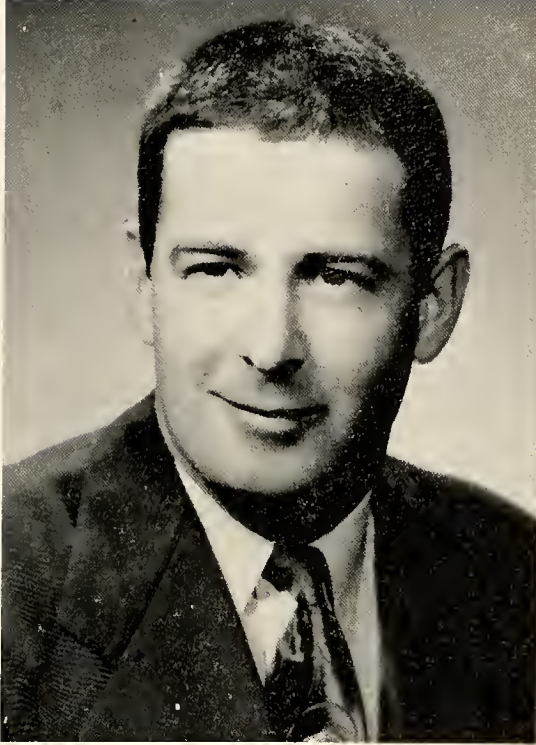

THE 1955 JEFFERSONIAN: We the Seniors of Jefferson High School, Berne, Indiana, present to you, our yearbook. We have crowded into it memories of our high school days at J. H. S. We hope it may bring back pleasant memories to all who read it.

In our years of high school we have found that life consists of more than books and classroom knowledge, paper and tests. We have learned to think, to assume responsibility, and to live together. We have played in the field of sports, taken our role on the stage, marched in the band, written for the newspaper, delved into salesmanship in magazines and refreshments, taken time out for parties, wiener roasts, and many other activities, all a part of our education.

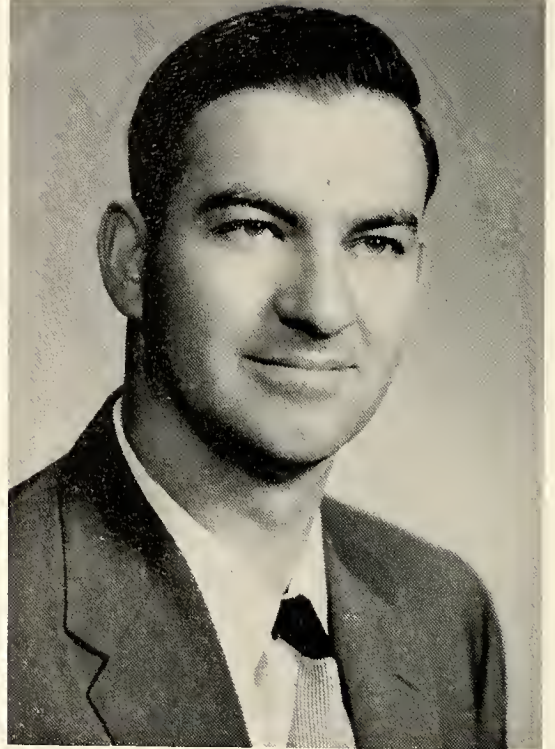

We have enjoyed our years at J. H. S. and shall ever remember our school, our teachers, and parents who helped us to an enriched life.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1955, dedicate this edition of the Jeffersonian to our Principal, Mr. Stanley, and to our trustee, Mr. Mosser, who have helped to provide the encouragement and the co-operation needed for our high school training. We will long appreciate their thoughtfulness and understanding.

Future Farmers of America

Courses in vocational agriculture under the National Vocational Education Act were beginning and the boys who were enrolled in these courses in the various states felt a spirit of comradeship due to farming as a vocation.

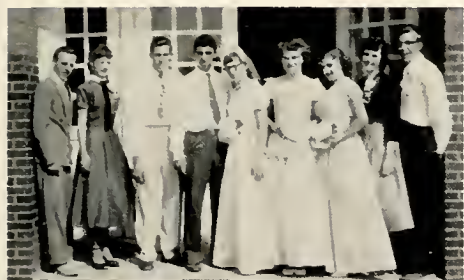

Within a few years, a number of local departments of vocational agriculture in most of the states had developed so-called "Agricultural Clubs", the membership being composed of the students of vocational agriculture.

As these local vocational agriculture organizations grew in number, their successes and failures formed a pattern of experience by means of which efforts toward group action became more successful.

Between 1923 and 1928 a number of states actually formed organizations of vocational agriculture students. It is interesting to note that such names as "Junior Farmers", "Young Farmers", "Future Farmers", and the like, appeared in various sections of the country.

Our first F. F. A. chapter for Jefferson High School was organized this fall. The Indiana F. F. A. has approved our membership and we are an active chapter in the state and national F. F. A. organizations, under Chapter 384, as of December 2, 1954.

Senior Class History

In the fall of nineteen hundred forty-three our class comprised of twenty-eight uncertain children began our school career with Mrs. Madeline Steinbrunner as our teacher. Nineteen came back to enter the third and fourth grades with Helen Kenney as our instructor. Mrs. Paul Beaty and Mr. Robert Paxon were our teachers in the fifth and sixth grades, respectively.

When we entered Junior High we started functioning as a class. Class Officers were elected and in the eighth grade a girl from our class was chosen as School Queen.

We began our journey through high school in nineteen hundred fifty-one with twenty-one green Freshmen. Mrs. Marjorie Rhodes was chosen as our sponsor. We had a hilarious time on our initiation day and in the evening, the Sophomores treated us to a skating party at the Celina Roller Rink. Alice Stuber was elected School Queen at the Fall Festival.

Our sponsor in our second year of high school was John Wagner and again our class had the winning candidate for School Queen, Patricia Murphy. We were in charge of initiating the Freshmen and gave them a supper and a hayride. The chili supper which we sponsored was very successful.

Our sponsor for our Junior year was Mrs. Jack Lee. Audrey Kuhn and Alice Stuber were elected cheerleaders for the first team. We again sponsored a chili supper and sold greeting cards to raise money for our class trip. A highlight of the year was the Junior-Senior reception that began with a smorgasbord supper at the Kosy-Korner Restaurant in Geneva with the class of nineteen hundred fifty-four as our guests. Following the supper we journeyed to Fort Wayne to attend a hockey game at the Memorial Coliseum.

Last fall we joyfully entered our last year at Jefferson with thirteen members left in our class. Mrs. Jack Lee was again our sponsor. We elected the following officers: president, Don Keller; vice-president, Esther Zehr; secretary, Pat Murphy; and treasurer, Audrey Ann Kuhn. We edited the Jeffersonian and presented the three-act mystery, Who Killed Aunt Caroline? As a thrilling ending to our school year we took a class trip with the Juniors to Washington, D. C.

Four of the boys; Jim Reef, Jim Wellman, Roger LeFever, and Don Keller, represented our class on the varsity basketball team and other sports. Jim Adams was student manager.

The students that have attended Jefferson Township school all twelve years are: James Adams, Audrey Kuhn, Alice Stuber, Carol Wall, and Esther Zehr. The rest of our class join with them in wishing to all graduates of the future, "good luck, good health, and happiness."

Senior Wills

I, JAMES ADAMS, will my light hair to Phillip Hammitt, and my nickname "MOUSE" to anyone who likes it.

I, ESIBELL BURKHART, will my natural curly hair to Arlene Sommer, and my bass horn to Phillip Hammitt.

I, JULIA ANN KAUFFMAN, will my ability to be engaged to Dorothy Frank, and my fountain pen to Virginia Baker providing she keeps it in working condition.

I, CORRINNE GERBER, will to Butch Swan my ability to play the piano, my weight to Arlene Sommer, and my brown eyes to Fred Lehman.

I, DON KELLER, will to Bob Caffee my athletic ability, and my car to anyone who can drive it like I do.

I, AUDREY ANN KUHN, will my ability to be the last one up in the morning at home to Pat Bollenbacher, and my seat on the bus to Virginia Baker, and my books to Bob Caffee.

I, ROGER LeFEVER, will my car battery to Bill Smitley on a Saturday night, and my ability to get along with Richard Dudgeon to Fred Lehman.

I, PATRICIA LOU MURPHY, will my height to Rose Ann Marble, and my ability to be ready for the school bus (Ha! Ha!) to anyone who likes to get up better than I do.

I, JAMES REEF, will my ability to talk Mr. Beeson out of a test to Carl Wellman, my slim hips to Colleen Egly, and my ability to argue to anyone in trouble.

I, ALICE ROSE STUBER, will my blue eyes and light hair to Ann Luginbill, and my ability to sleep on the bus to anyone who can stand the jars.

I, CAROL ROSE WALL, will my red tresses to Colleen Egly, my musical talent to Dorothy Frank and my part in the Senior play to anyone who can do better than I.

I, JAMES WELLMAN, will my ability to get along with the girls to Wayne Bollenbacher, and my ability to watch Arlene Sommer in her levis to anyone that has the opportunity.

I, ESTHER ZEHR, will my nickname "ZEKE" to Rachael Stolz, and hope she doesn't get as tired of it as I have.

Rhymes by Ruby

These are the things we'll not forget:
Our classmates' faces, teachers we've met,
The old brick walls of Jefferson High
With our country's flag against the sky.
The halls where our footsteps echoed loud,
The old scarred desks where we sat so proud.
The days of gladness, the days of tears,
We will look back on in our future years.
Of the large group that started both far and near,
Thirteen are ready to pioneer
Into otherfields both new and old,
As do always sweet maids and lads so bold.

There is James Adams, devoted to duty
Affected by neither big words nor by beauty.
His acts of kindness and words of cheer
Makes our school a pleasure while he is here.

Esibell Burkhart, whose song goes this way,
'I cook, mend and sew and get lessons all day.
Then home to help Dad; O! It's a great life,
But one day I'll make, for some lad, a good wife''.

Then there's a young miss, Judy Kauffman by name,
A pleasanter girl to this school never came.
She's learning to cook and her sewing's an art,
For rumors are, someone has stolen her heart.

Corrinne's gay and smart, but she is at her best
When she makes music to soothe the savage breast';
She's witty and cute, but from what we've seen,
Romance has caught up with our Miss Corrinne.

Don is a master at basketball games,
School books and girls, he easily tames,
Fair-haired and handsome, always a friend,
For fair play he will ever try to defend.

Audrey is winsome, clever, and-dear,
She's an all-weather friend every day of the year,
She's tops at the drums, in the office, in work,
Whatever's to do, she will never shirk.

Roger, the serious Beau Brummel of school,
Whether games or girls, he always stays cool,
He is steady and sure with his eyes full of light,
His past has been pleasant, his future is bright.

A sense of humor, engaging smile,
Makes knowing Pat Murphy very worth-while,
She will go far for she knows what's in books
She has a good brain as well as good looks.

Jim Reef is a live wire, if there ever was one,
 He's ready to go when the rest are all done;
 He likes all his teachers, who give him good grades
 He knows all the boys and loves all the maids.

And do you remember sweet Alice, classmates?
 In her classes, in music and good looks, she rates.
 In her jaunty white suit, her baton in the air
 Have you ever seen anyone who could compare?

Then there's that bright girl, Miss Carol Wall,
 Who always comes running whenever we call.
 Her talent in music and household art
 Will surely capture some manly heart.

Jim Wellman is sharp and quite sure
 On the ball team and in class he's secure.
 Girls are no menace and the farm is for him.
 We hope that his future will not be too grim.

Esther is a quiet, efficient lass
 She takes care of things that others let pass,
 And does little deeds that makes life worth-while
 She's kind and courageous and makes us all smile.

The Junior Class Prophecy

While attending the Inaugural Ball in the year 1972, we were very pleased to be the honored guests of President James D. Reef, whose hair was no longer red.

The feature of the evening performance was opera singer Mademoiselle Katherine. Later, while we were backstage, we were amazed to find that she was Esibell Burkhart.

The next morning we all arose bright and early and had breakfast in the hotel dining room. Our waiter was James Adams, an altogether different person from the one with whom we had gone to school. He had grown to be six feet tall and weighed two hundred pounds. Who would have guessed it!

Our guide was a beautiful blonde. She asked us where we were from and she told us she had graduated from the same high school. Much to our amazement she was Carol Rose Wall. She told us she had grown tired of being a carrot top; so she bleached her hair.

While we were on a sightseeing tour, we stopped at one of the larger plantations near Washington, D. C. James and Alice (Stuber) Wellman, owners of the plantation, invited us to stay for lunch; they served us their specialty, potato-onions. They had crossed potatoes and onions to eliminate the use of water in cooking them.

After lunch we went to the horse races. The winner of the main event was an auburn horse named "Nash" ridden by Don Durango. As we approached the winner we recognized the jockey to be Don Keller.

Motoring back to town, we had a minor collision. We were all shocked to our senses. We collided with a woman driver, who was Esther Zehr. Poor Esther was a nervous wreck. State Cop Roger LeFever was investigator for the accident. We were then taken to the hospital where we were treated for minor cuts and bruises by Veterinarian Audrey Kuhn.

After we recovered from shock we returned to our hotel. The next day we were spectators at the Women's Golf Tournament. To our astonishment the champion was Judy Kauffman. She said she had never touched a golf club before - Beginner's Luck!

That evening we enjoyed a Chinese supper at Nell's Beanery. Of course the chef was Nellie Bess Lee, the sponsor of the Senior class of 1955. The evening entertainment was Hollywood comedienne Pat Murphy. Her special act was the hula dance, which won the admiration of all the men.

After the program we grabbed our bags, boarded our plane, and started for home. Our kind stewardess was Corrinne Gerber, who hovered over us like a guardian angel until we reached the green fields of Indiana.

The class of 1956 wish you, the class of 1955, the best of luck in your future.
